

South Florida Designer Launches Exotic Line of Wearable Art

Sandra Robinson, designer of the Saje Robinson collection has recently introduced a vibrant line of wearable art designer t-shirts to the market. Even the most discerning “fashionista” agrees that this is a fresh new, bold, artistic and exotic approach to t-shirts designs, which relates to all ages and groups.

The designs feature a range of cultural expressions inspired by African, Mayan, Aztec and Oriental art, masks and symbols. The organic designs embrace the spirit of the wearer, and infuse them with positive energy. The observer finds himself/herself engaged in interpreting the various layers of meaning captured in these expressions of world art.

The t-shirts are made from 100% ring-spun cotton for superior softness. Other features which make the collection outstanding are the novelty stitching around the neckline and sleeves and the double-needle- stitched hem. The collection consists of sixty designs featuring camouflage print and spider tie-dye. Women silhouettes consist of a semi-fitted tee and a relaxed tee.

Sandra Robinson has an impressive list of achievements over the years in the fashion industry. A graduate of the Art institute of Fort Lauderdale, she received awards for highest achievement and best portfolio. She was inducted into the President’s Ambassador Council for Outstanding Student Achievement in the promotion of the Art Institute of Fort Lauderdale and for contribution made to the area of fashion design. Her design experience extends to costume designs for theatre as well as films and commercials. Sandra boasts a portfolio which also includes interior design for homes, private jets, weddings and her many community charity events.

She is very excited about the line and the responses that it has generated. She attributes this to her passion and hard work. When asked what inspired her she said, “I have always celebrated the creative expressions of other cultures, and living in the international flavors of South Florida has fuelled my drive to create wearable art which can be understood and appreciated by all, regardless of races, gender or age.”
